

Doctoral Scholarship

2021-2022

The Network for Strategic Analysis Network is pleased to offer a scholarship of $10,000 to a graduate student. The chosen candidate will receive a doctoral intern position at the Network for the academic year 2021-22.

Under the supervision of the co-directors of the Network, the doctoral intern will contribute to the knowledge mobilization activities of the Network. Their role will be threefold: to write summary reports on the Network's research events, to participate in the revision and translation of the Network's publications, as well as to produce analyzes related to their expertise.

Requirements

- Be registered as a full-time doctoral student for the 2021-2022 academic year at a Canadian university;
- Be supervised by one of the members of the Network for Strategic Analysis;
- Work on a theme related to one of the three axes of the Network:
 - Great power competition
 - Multilateral cooperation in international security
 - Defence capacity building
- Fluency in French and English;
- Sense of responsibility, rigor, team spirit.

Submitting your application

To submit your application, please send your CV, along with a cover letter and your last transcript, before August 27, 2021, to the following address: info@ras-nsa.ca, specifying "Doctoral Scholarship" in the subject line.

Only selected candidates will be contacted.